Healthcare Reform

What employers need to know!

There's a lot of information about the new health care reform acts on the Internet and in the news — much of it vague, some of it incorrect and most of it overwhelming.

Presented by

NJPA

and other press associations

While several of the changes will be effective in 2011, most of the changes in the law won't take effect until 2014. The provisions with delayed effective dates will be clarified in future regulations, and some of the provisions may be changed or repealed before they become effective.

The attorneys from the Employee Benefits Practice Group at Fisher & Phillips LLP will provide an overview of the recent healthcare reform legislation with a focus on how the legislation affects employers, particularly in the near term.

Presenter

Sheldon Bulling

A partner at Fisher & Phillips and a member of the firm's Employee Benefits Practice Group, Bulling advises client employers on compliance issues involving the Health Insurance

Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) as well as on federal and state employment taxes. He has extensive experience advising clients on the employee benefits and executive compensation aspects of mergers and acquisitions.
